

FEDERAL EXECUTIVE ORDER 13693 PLANNING FOR FEDERAL SUSTAINABILITY IN THE NEXT DECADE – WATER RESOURCE MANAGEMENT WORKGROUP MEETING

February 24, 2016 – 9:30 – 11:00 am

Denver Federal Center, GSA Building 41 First Floor, Lakewood, CO

Executive Order 13693, Planning for Federal Sustainability in the Next Decade calls on federal agencies to reduce water use from FY07 baselines by 36% by FY25 in the areas of potable water consumption, collecting and utilizing building and facility water balance data, reducing agency industrial, landscaping and agricultural water consumption and installing appropriate green infrastructure features on federally owned property to help with stormwater and wastewater management.

GSA and EPA invite all federal, state and local agencies, NGO's, and interested parties to the first meeting of the water resource management workgroup to learn of current programs, discuss challenges and identify potential collaborative efforts to meet the requirements of the EO.
